Serving the Hudson River with Pride for 42 Years

From the Editor's Desk

I'd like to welcome James Malchow to the helm. If I am not mistaken he is in the unique position of being the only president to also be on Clearwater's board other than Pete.

The club is beginning the New Year with a new president and many opportunities for our members and volunteers.

Many of our committees are looking for new members and have projects in need of volunteers. In particular the building committee has some repairs planned for the coming year and we are looking to build new docks for the harbor. Please contact the committee chairs if you can help. It would be a great time to refresh and revitalize some of our teams.

Even though the chill winds are blowing festival planning will be starting soon. It's a great way to meet new people and see what it takes to pull off a major event. Contact Rosemary Thomas if you would like to be involved.

The current owners of many of the individual tasks that keep the club going would welcome some help or a little backup. If there is something you would enjoy doing please consider it.

Finally I would like to personally thank Saul Rozinsky for his leadership last year. His experience and guidance are invaluable.
